- 03.09
- The U.S. is close to an agreement on long-range JASSM missiles for Ukraine, reports Reuters. The inclusion of these missiles in the weapons package is expected this fall, although a final decision has not yet been made. Military analysts suggest that the transfer of JASSM, which is stealthy and can hit targets further than most missiles in Ukraine's arsenal, could push back Russian strongholds and supply depots hundreds of kilometers.
  - Norway allocated €48.28 million to Ukraine for the purchase of drones and air defense systems.
  - Italy will manufacture a new SAMP/T anti-aircraft battery for Ukraine instead of transferring a ready-made system from its reserves. This was reported by Defense Minister Guido Crosetto.
  - The U.K. Minister of Defense confirmed that a contract for the purchase of 152-mm ammunition for Ukraine, valued at £300 million, has been signed.
- 04.09
- Ukraine and Ireland signed a bilateral security agreement. This year, Ireland will allocate an additional €128 million to Ukraine for non-lethal military support and at least €40 million for humanitarian aid. Ireland will also provide demining systems and equipment for disarming explosives, participate in the Demining Coalition, and train Ukrainian soldiers.
  - Ukraine completed debt restructuring — it was reduced by $9 billion. Debt payments will decrease by 93%, saving $11.4 billion over the next three years.
  - Germany ordered 17 IRIS-T air defense systems for Ukraine, announced Chancellor Olaf Scholz. By 2026, Ukraine will receive a total of 24 IRIS-T systems from Germany—12 medium-range and 12 short-range, according to Bloomberg.
  - A Ukrainian defense company began cooperating with Poland's ALS Systems and transferred licenses for the production of its advanced drones.
- 05.09
- Sweden will allocate nearly €44 million to support energy and heating in Ukraine. These funds will be used to install two gas turbines for electricity generation. It is one of Sweden's largest contributions to Ukraine's energy sector, helping to provide electricity for 185,000 people.
  - In London, a protest was held against the shelling of peaceful Ukrainian cities by the Russian army. Protesters called on the government to lift the ban on the use of British long-range missiles against military targets on Russian territory.

- Over the past 24 hours, 138 combat clashes took place in the frontline.
- On September 5, Lithuania completed the installation of counter-mobility equipment near the bridge connecting the country to Russia – Kaliningrad oblast. This was reported by the Lithuanian Ministry of Defense. Laurinas Kasciunas, the head of the ministry, explained that Vilnius could only set up obstacles in front of the bridge, being the property of the Russian Federation. In particular, it was blocked by “hedgehogs” and “dragon’s teeth.”
- The Commander-in-Chief of the Ukrainian Armed Forces, Oleksandr Syrskyi, gave an interview to CNN. Main points:
  - Over the past six days, the enemy has not advanced a single meter in the Pokrovsk direction: “And this weakening (of the Russians - ed.) is undoubtedly felt in other areas.”
  - Russia has a material advantage, in particular in aircraft, missiles, tanks, artillery, ammunition, and personnel. Therefore, Ukraine is forced to be “smarter and more efficient” in waging war.
  - Russia has deployed tens of thousands of troops to Kursk oblast, including some of its best airborne assault units.
  - Recruits are receiving shorter training than would be desirable. But the dynamics at the front require the deployment of new forces as soon as possible.
  - Delays in U.S. military aid have caused serious setbacks on the battlefield and led to a drop in morale.
- President Volodymyr Zelenskyi gave an interview to NBC News. Main points:
  - Ukraine’s operation in the Kursk oblast is a preventive strike to prevent Russia from forming buffer zones in the Kharkiv and Sumy oblasts. Kyiv will hold the seized Russian territory as long as it is necessary.
  - Absolutely all the defined tasks of our Kursk operation are being implemented,” Zelenskyi said in his evening address. “And as of now, this operation continues to be the largest replenishment of the exchange fund due to one direction.”
  - Few people knew about the offensive in Kursk—not only partners but also most institutions in Ukraine were not informed, which made it successful.
  - Russia pulled about 60,000 of its troops from other parts of the frontline to Kursk oblast. More than 600 Russians were captured in this area.
  - Western weapons are being delivered to Ukraine with delays. Because of this, in some areas of the frontline, Russians have significantly more weapons, which affects the course of hostilities and the number of casualties.
  - Ukraine will prepare a detailed plan for ending the war and propose it for consideration at the second Peace Summit, which Russian representatives will be invited to.

06.09

- Over the past day, 181 combat clashes occurred in the frontline. The situation was most tense in the Pokrovsk and Kurakhove directions.
- During a Ramstein meeting, President Zelenskyi said that Russia had lost 6,000 soldiers killed and wounded in the month of the Armed Forces' operation in Kursk oblast. Meanwhile, Ukrainian troops are already controlling 1300 km<sup>2</sup> of Russian territory, which is about a hundred settlements.
- Russia is preparing further massive missile and drone strikes against Ukraine's energy sector. Prime Minister Denys Shmyhal said that there is already intelligence about the preparations.
- Russian troops have significantly intensified their offensive on the town of Vuhledar in Donetsk oblast, and have achieved some tactical success. According to Ukrinform, this is stated in the ISW report. “Russian offensive operations in the Vuhledar area are likely aimed at increasing pressure on Ukrainian forces defending the western part of Donetsk oblast and creating conditions for further success in Russia's priority offensive efforts in the Pokrovsk direction,” the report says.
- According to the updated information from Deep State analysts, Ukrainian defense forces have regained positions in Niu York, Nelipivka, and near Lyptsi. They say that there is also enemy advancement. The Russians have advanced near Pishchane, Hirnyk, Stelmakhivka, Kalynivka, Lisivka, and Halytsynivka.
- The Azov Brigade regained control of a part of Niu York in Donetsk oblast and unblocked Ukrainian troops from encirclement. The soldiers managed to stabilize the situation, but it remains tense. Despite heavy fighting, Azov is holding the line and successfully counterattacking.

07.09

- Over the past day, 187 combat engagements took place in the frontline. The enemy was most active in the Pokrovsk and Kurakhove directions.
- At night, Ukrainian drones attacked a large ammunition and equipment depot in Soldatskoye, Voronezh oblast of the Russian Federation. According to sources, the enemy was actively using this depot to transfer equipment to Ukraine. At the moment, four powerful fires and continuous detonation of ammunition have been recorded at the facility. Local authorities are urgently evacuating residents of nearby settlements.
- The Russian Federation has received more than 200 ballistic missiles from Iran – The Times. These are Fath-300 missiles with a range of up to 112 km. They will expand Russia's ability to strike Ukrainian targets from long distances.
- British intelligence has stated that the Russian army has made tactical advances near Vuhledar in recent weeks. This area is likely to remain a hotspot.
